NC CHILD SUPPORT COUNCIL ARCHIVES

The Archives Committee needs you desperately! Now that the Child Support Enforcement Program is 30 years old, we are seeing a lot of our dedicated child support professionals looking towards retirement. While we are sad to see you go, we applaud and truly admire your efforts to make a difference in the life of North Carolina's children.

The Archives Committee asks one last favor before you leave. Please don't throw away those old copies of Council Newsletters, photos, conference booklets, and any other Council memorabilia. If you were a past board member, please look through any old business records that you have as well. Much of what we are missing is from the 1980's, so please don't think that what you have is too old and no one wants them. We do!

Of course, you don't have to wait to retire to donate to the Archives Committee. Donations are accepted anytime! Please contact Vickie Odom at the Central Office, phone (919) 255-3893, or e-mail at Vickie.Odom@ncmail.net if you are interested in contributing to the Council's history!

Party to the Maxx

By: John Jablonski

I know! You think I misspelled maxx. Well read on and let's see!

Ok, so its time to update you on the latest news about all the Entertainment for our 2005 Child Support Conference. Well, guess what? It's a secret so I can't tell you anything. But if I could tell you something, it would be that our Conference theme “You Raise Me Up” when mixed with our Conference décor “Mardi-Gras” is resulting in some of the most outrageous and creative ideas I have ever seen. I wish I could tell you about our opening processional complete with Mardi-Gras style floats, jesters, Dixieland Jazz, top hats, masks, feathers, costumes... Stop! I wasn't supposed to tell you about that so please keep it under wraps.

This year, each County will be asked to create their own unique County Banner Mardi-Gras style. But I can't tell you about the secret contest and prize for the best-designed banner. NO! You can't make me tell!

And what's a trip to New Orleans without a stroll down Bourbon Street? It's a secret but we will have a Bourbon Street too. In fact, we will have an entire French Quarter. Here you can collect valuable Mardi-Gras coins and beads as you visit your favorite “costumed” vendors. Don't tell anyone but whom ever collects the most coins and beads will win a brand new 22-inch color tele... Wow! I almost let that one slip. Bet that will “You Raise Me Up” alright!

It's no secret that our Hospitality Suite will once again be stocked with your favorite New Orleans “spirits” and perhaps a little bayou cuisine as well. On Thursday night, the Suite will operate extended hours to facilitate a steady flow to our floating President's Reception. Now this is “hush-hush”. The Council Board Members will all have their own supply of colorful Mardi-Gras beads, which they will gladly distribute to anyone who shows the right “You Raise Me Up” spirit. So get your costumes ready, dawn your party masks (you know the ones with the feathers), put on your happy face and get ready to party to the maxx.

Oh, about The Maxx. Yes, we will party to “The Maxx”. The most polished, talented dance band in the entire southeast will be joining us from Atlanta, Georgia to insure our Thursday night dance will be a “night to remember”. I could tell you more but it's a secret! One thing I can tell you-I will be there. I wouldn't miss the one for the world. See you in Asheville.

To Join or Not to Join that is the question

Every year as the new Board of Directors begins the first meeting we face the same challenge. How do we build a stronger council membership? This is not a new issue, this has been around as long as I have been involved in child support and trust me that goes back a long way! It is important for every child support professional in North Carolina to realize this about a lot more than an annual conference.

We are professionals who are dedicated to the work of helping children who cannot otherwise help themselves. As professionals, we need to come together as an organized group whose focus is to promote our beliefs, dreams and ideas for the future of our program. This representation occurs through our various professional affiliations. The North Carolina Child Support Council is just the first rung of an expansive organization that represents all child support professionals internationally.

Each year numerous training conferences occur within each state as well as multiple regional conferences and the National conference. The focus of each of these annual meetings is to pool our collective knowledge and experiences to affect a stronger child support program nationally. It is through these meetings that new legislative ideas and new practices are born. However, our influence is not just within the US. It is through the hard work and effort of all child support professionals here in the US that our program has achieved international acclaim. Every year at the National Child Support Conference there is a large contingency of attendees from other nations. These nations have viewed our success and our practices and have decided we are the templates for how they wish to manage their programs.

They recognize that our collective membership enables us to influence decision makers to draft laws, which improve the delivery of child support services. This membership is comprised of individual local child support staff in every county across our country, in other words, people just like you. Your membership and participation in your local association provides the voice for our future. It is often said that there is safety in numbers, well even more so there is Power in numbers. As members of the council your voice is heard in our State Director's office, as a large organized association within the state you give empowerment to our State Director as he fights for improvements for the program. As part of a larger national organization, you do affect federal law and how the child support program is administered. So as you can see what happens at the federal level is the result of a domino affect, it begins with the first individual joining the council and making themselves heard...

The Parade of Festive Events

Will you be there?

Allons (a-law(n) (Let's Go)! This year is parading by at an amazing pace and summer is quickly approaching. The conference dates are zooming into reality for the NC Child Support Council. As conference coordinator, I want to share some of the excitement that awaits you at the beautiful Renaissance Hotel in Asheville, NC on August 17-19, 2005.

Brush up on your Cajun French as the Mardi Gras will begin at the Opening Session on Wed at 1 pm in the Grand Ballroom with the theme: "You Raise Me Up". A very festive and colorful time is to be had by all who attend. Don't miss the PARADE. Yes, I said a real parade. There will be the costumes, the surprises, the music, the children, the door prizes and the food. You must be there. Many important facts will be revealed to you during the Opening Session that will allow you to take full advantage of every event that is scheduled to take place throughout the conference, and it will give you the advantage to winning fabulous prizes during the conference and at the Closing Session. Jazz? You got it, if the Jester has called it right, there will be great Jazz music from a local community jazz band consisting of middle and high school children. Prepare yourself, you may just want to breakout and enjoy it!

You don't want to miss "The Fly Lady". This local celebrity will get you pumped up and going, just the energy you need for this conference and for when you return home to reality. You will think you have sprouted wings when she is done!

Plan your wardrobe with BRIGHT GREENS, PURPLES and GOLDS and become a part of the festive affair as we begin the parade down the streets of our own child support world. Take a stroll down memory lane while we celebrate the 30th birthday of the NC Child Support Enforcement Program. It will be a complete birthday party with cake and punch for everyone.

There will be a photo booth open at various times during the conference where you and/or your group can get your pictures made free as a souvenir from your trip to the Child Support Mardi Gras.

Find the French Quarter, and take a walk down Bourbon Street and fill your new conference tote bags with goodies from the vendors. Don't be surprised if you don't recognize your favorite vendor on Thursday, as they will be in costume, participating in a costume contest for which you can cast the vote for the best one. You will also be eligible for a drawing to win a fabulous prize for visiting each vendor and securing their signature on a vendor prize sheet. This prize will be valued $100-$200.

The Hospitality Suite will be available on Wed. evening at 5 pm with fabulous foods and drinks including some from the Big Easy. Don't be shocked if you see a few "mudbugs". Warning, these do not come in cups.

North Carolina Child Support Council Newsletter

It will be standing room only with all the close fellowship and networking you can stand. But, you don't want to miss it!

A hot buffet breakfast will kick start us on Thursday morning followed by the very important Business Session. There will be nice door prizes given during the Business Session, so you must be there early to get a ticket and be eligible. The General Session will immediately follow and another surprise is in store for you then. It could be magical.

The Curriculum/CLE Committees have worked hard to provide you with a great outline of workshops suitable to fit everyone's needs. These will run at various intervals throughout the day. See the Curriculum “At a Glance” for further details.

Providing Lunch on Thursday is still in negotiations. I hope to be able to provide lunch as a free benefit, but if I am unsuccessful, there are fabulous restaurants and street side cafes within a short walking distance of the hotel. The hotel also has its own restaurant, “Orchards” and a Lobby Lounge for your convenience.

Thursday evening the Hospitality Suite will again be available for your favorite beverages and snacks from 5-7 pm.

You are cordially invited to join President Kristen Ruth at the President's Reception at the Top of the Plaza; 6-8 pm on Thursday. You can experience the breathtaking evening sunset from the downtown's premier rooftop ballroom overlooking Asheville and the beautiful scenic NC Great Smokey Mountains, while you enjoy delicious chef prepared delicacies and mingle among friends. Wow! What a view! It is simply majestic!

Allons Dance' (Let's Dance)! “The Maxx”, a high profile party and dance band from Atlanta, Georgia, will kick off the Thursday evening party at 8 pm in the Grand Ballroom. Come prepared to enjoy 4 hours of high-energy dance and entertainment from, not only the band, but your fellow members, too. Don't miss this festive atmosphere and a chance for fabulous door prizes. You might just be asked to line dance, so warm up your shoes!

Friday morning will provide those last minute workshops followed by the Closing Session. You must be present to experience the end of a wonderful conference in which you must have been raised up in some way. There will be the best of door prizes, the winners will be drawn for all the raffles and conference contests, the President's address, the passing of the gavel, the presentation of the 2006 theme and conference location, the presentation of the new board members, and the recap of the NCCSC, and you will still get to leave by noon on Friday.

If you miss this fun-filled festive, but educational conference, you will have to pay huge bucks for a real trip to Mardi Gras, and then to special training sessions, and then you still won't have as much fun or learn as much as we did in three quick and easy days in Asheville. Only the pictures, the handouts, the prizes and the new energy and knowledge you take home from this conference will convince those who were left behind that you are really are telling the truth about where you went and what you done! I hope to see you in Asheville, August 17-19th, 2005 at the Renaissance Hotel.

Door Prizes Needed!!!

Here we go again, time for me to whine and beg, yep you guessed it, its conference time and that means I need door prizes!! Once again I need for all you good little “boys” and “girls” to perform your magic and get us some really great stuff to give away.

We had an incredible number of prizes last year and some really unique items. Lets see if we can match that or beat it this year. Once again, we would like to try to gather items that are representative of the area of the state they come from. You know the drill, like furniture from the Hickory area, etc...

Now for the county that does this best (most door prizes donated) the “little old travel agent” is going to donate one (1) roundtrip ticket on US Airways for anywhere US Air travels in the continental US.
